

1) Sales by Region

Explanation

This chart shows the sales performance across different regions.

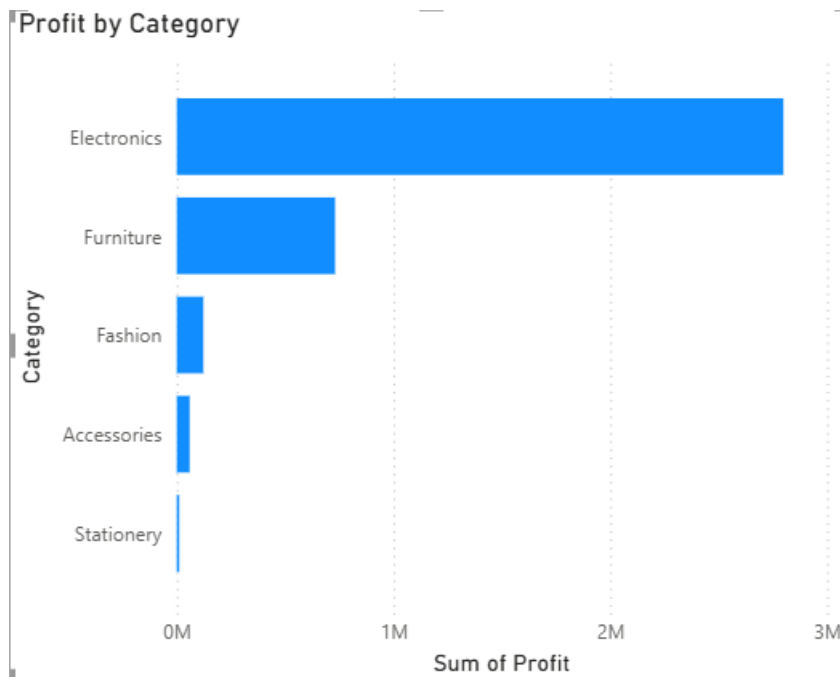

2) Monthly Sales Trend

Explanation

This line chart shows the changes in sales over different months. It helps to identify the months with high and low sales and understand the overall sales trend.

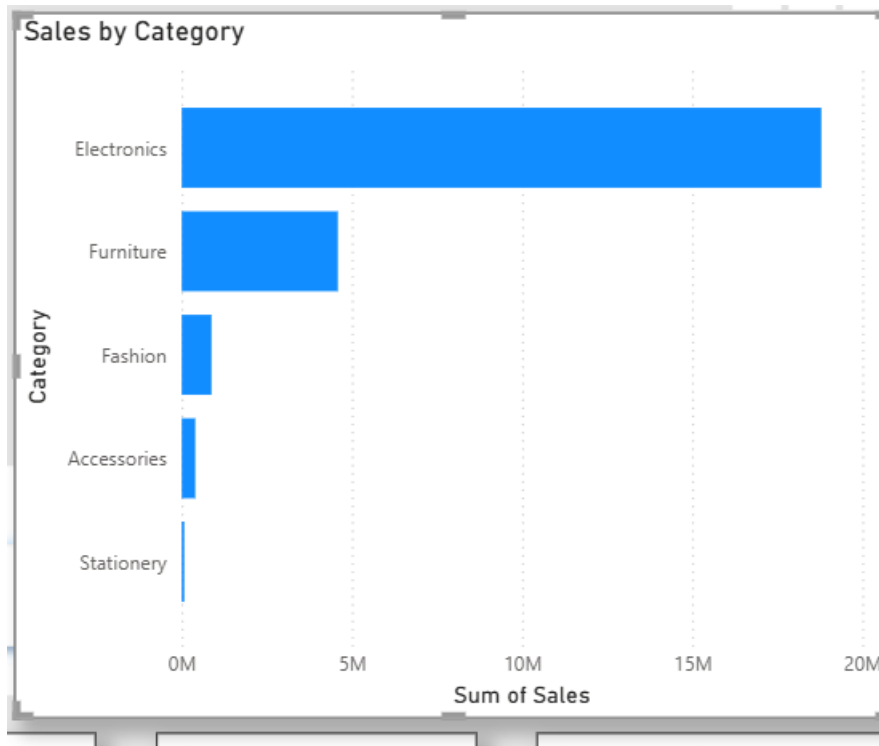

3) Profit by Category

Explanation:

This bar chart shows the profit generated by different product categories. It helps to compare the profitability of each category and identify which category contributes the most profit.

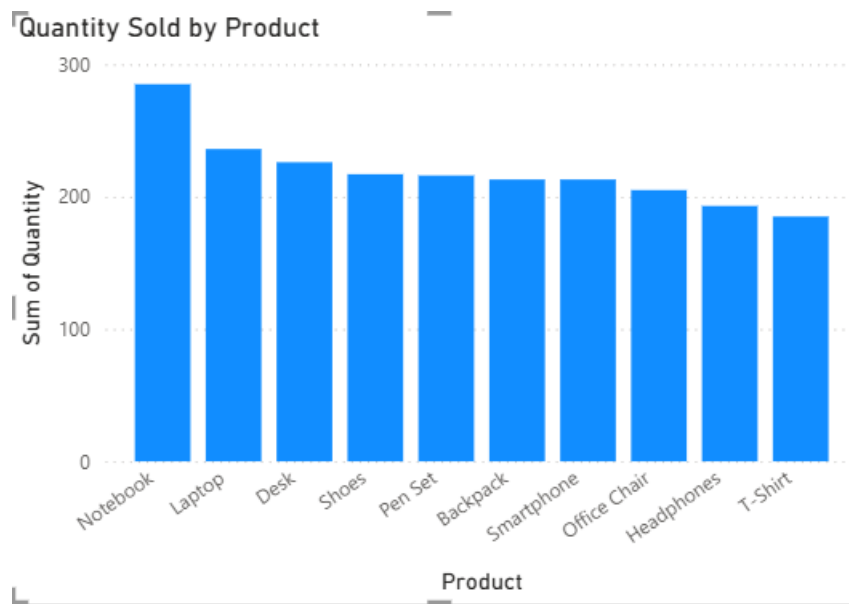

4) Sales by Category

Explanation:

This bar chart shows the total sales generated by different product categories. It helps to compare sales performance and identify the category with the highest sales.

5) Quantity Sold by Product

Explanation:

This bar chart shows the total quantity sold for different products. It helps to identify the most and least selling products based on their sales quantity.